"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

I think I studied well, but I think I could have done much better in my studying.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

Yes they are appropriate. The notes given to me in class, from there I am able to draw up my own study notes & learn.

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

The errors made, I think is my nervousness and the amount of work needed to study. I think confusion might have also got the better of me, as all the projects were concentrated on the skull.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

I don't think that the lecturer needs to do anything. Lecturers are done well, I think maybe I need to just study a little harder than what I am doing now.

"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

I am not sure as to why I performed so poorly and I am very disappointed with my mark although I passed. I studied very hard and spent alot of time on this subject.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

Yes. For the prac sessions I payed full attention to the lab tutors and also made an effort to practice during non-rad prac time.
For the theory I would constantly be going through my nessesary notes and other sources.

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

Yes. And it is very disappointing.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

I feel that the entire skill work is covered in a very short period of time and it is very difficult to fit all this work into ~~the~~ such a short period of time.

"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

Before the assessment there was a 5-day long weekend which I used to study for the assessment. I was called home, but refused because of the studying I had to do!!! The amount of projections with all the differences between them are very confusing. This was my downfall in the paper \Rightarrow MIXING EVERYTHING UP. Marks are really disappointing! 😞

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

My study skills are more or less appropriate for the subject, I would think.
It's just that all the different skull projections, their similarities and differences, were all confusing and this was scary during the studying sessions of mine.
I hoped not to confuse everything BUT I did! 😞

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

I am a practical person and not theoretical. That is probably one of my downfalls during studying.
The main errors made by me were the angles, anatomical lines and centering points. The different angles for different views with different anatomical lines and different centering points, ARE ALL CONFUSING!!!

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

- * Slow down the pace of the subject (which I knew may be difficult because of the time limitations) at DUT).
- * More breaks between the lectures.
- * Shorter teaching "segments".

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

My performance was very poor due to my lack of studying and then rushing to try and remember a large amount of theory work.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

Yes, if I had prepared longer before this exam

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

I do need to prepare efficiently and read through the questions properly before attempting to answer.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

Maybe more tutorials should be held on the more complex areas.

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

I DID STUDY, BUT RECALL DURING THE EXAM WAS DIFFICULT.
ALSO DUE TO SOME UNPREDICTED CASES, I COULD NOT COMPLETE ALL MY STUDYING IN TIME FOR THE ASSESSMENT.
MY UNDERSTANDING IS GOOD OVERALL

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

YES.

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

I DID NOT SPEND ENOUGH TIME TO ANSWER ~~THE~~ SOME QUESTIONS
COMPLETELY. MAYBE I COULD HAVE SPENT MORE TIME TO THINK MORE ON CERTAIN QUESTIONS.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

HELP US BY EMPHASISING MORE ON HOW TO ANSWER CERTAIN QUESTIONS AND TELL US US WHAT IS EXPECTED OF US.

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

Yes, I did study ~~but~~ but this questions asked where to hard and the ~~the~~ questions were marked strictly.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

Yes.

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

Yes

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

The lecturer should provide us with better detailed notes that are easily understandable (like how our Rad Prac I lecturer did last year). More lecture time should be given to this subject, and I feel some sections were rushed, and it played an important role in our Rad Prac II theory and practical exam.

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

This assessment required alot of work and time and I was not able to manage my time properly.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

Yes. but to a certain extent, I suppose that an alternate method of studying might be more constructive.

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

Yes. NO COMMENT!

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

I think that the whole day should be dedicated to the read proc subject because now when we have theory on one day and proc on another, it becomes really confusing as our theory sometimes is ahead of practicals. This causes confusion.

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

I had got 52% but I think I could have done better.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

Yes, I did study; There were certain things that ~~are~~ I needed to learn off by heart. But I managed to learn and understand everything within this content. ~~Maybe~~ I consistently read over my work. ~~So~~ I agree, I should off prepared in advance for this subject,

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

Yes, I think my ~~work~~ ^{is} ~~not~~ putting the correct centring point and not tabulating therefore I lost marks. I think my silly errors contributed to me, ~~not~~ not getting full marks.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

I don't think the lecturer should change any thing, I just think I ~~we~~ should learn more. And pay careful detail to centring point.

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

I did not have a proper study technique therefore
I found it difficult to remember everything.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

I think not.
I need to work on a new study technique.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

I think there should be more questions and answers where the lecturer goes through the answers and we are then aware of how to answer in our Exam.

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

My performance was a poor one. It is because I couldn't understand the content very well, it was bad because I ~~er~~ saw it on a paper.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

Yes but it have to be improved. I must do more groups works, I need to find a group that I will study with, I also need to talk to the lecture for better understanding.

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

The projections is the most which give a problem. I still had to check correct lines correct projections for each.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

I saw the one who need to go and talk to lecture for better understanding.

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

I DON'T BELIEVE THAT I'VE STUDIED ENOUGH FOR THE SUBJECT, ALSO, THE DIFFERENCE IN THE TIME WHEN A PRACTICAL IS MADE & WHEN THE THEORY IS DONE LEADS TO SOME CONFUSION, ~~BY~~ I LET MY EMOTIONAL STATE OVERTAKE MY MIND, MY STUDY SKILLS SHOULD BE RECONSIDERED

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

PROBABLY NOT, ATTENTION & STUDY TIME SHOULD BE ADEQUATELY AND EVENLY DISTRIBUTED OVER THE SUBJECT CONTENT, IT SHOULD RATHER ~~BE~~ REVERSE MY RE-WRITING INSTEAD OF READING.

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

YES, CONFUSION OVER CERTAIN POINTS, THIS SOMETIMES LEAD ME TO NOT ANSWERING THE QUESTION AT ALL,

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

GIVE US THE OPPORTUNITY TO WRITE A MAKE-UP ASSESSMENT & WE WOULD BE TERRIBLY GRATEFUL FOR IT,

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

I am very happy with my performance in this subject and I know that I did it well because I wanted to improve my marks for this subject.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

Yes, I do study this subject like other subjects but the difference is that this subject needs a lot of understanding.

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

The errors that I made was in the lines when describing the position.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

I am satisfied with understanding the lectures cause I managed to pass this subjects

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

The subject is understandable in terms of practicals but the complicated part is the theory which worsen my performance.

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

I think I need to change my study skills. But I don't know ~~what~~ how can I change it. I need someone to advise me.

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

Yes. Because I study well all the content of the subject but when it comes to test I sometimes confused by the questions.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

Nothing except advising me how to ~~not to~~ ~~not~~ be ~~careless~~ 'answer' the theory questions.

Give an explanation for your performance on this assessment:
"I did not study" is not an acceptable answer.

I didn't do well at all!

Are your study skills appropriate for the subject?

Yes they are appropriate!

Are you able to identify your errors made, if any. Please comment:

I can identify them and they include: not to inquire about the marking system etc.

What can the lecturer do to improve your passmark to 100%?

I believe that the only person who can make or bring a change to this is me and me alone!
