At the onset of this subject, i expected long boring lectures and was told the lectures last the whole day. which they did. but to my surprise the method used was very different. initial i was not sure if the on line class room would help in the learning process. as this was quit new to me. feather more the traditional method was boring iin to me and a was not looking forward to it at all. but it had to be done. so wen black board was introduced i was excited to what it was all about.

with the online classroom one is able to absorb far more than a lecture. it is more interactive and allows one to stay focused for the duration of the time spent in class. for those of us , like me with short attention span, this method worked very well. allowing us to stay focused for much long and absorbing much more.

strengths in the subject include, the sharing of information among peers. the was constant interaction with the facilitator and other students that ensured constant growth in the subject matters.

the only problem i think is the down time , when the online classroom did not work, and we had to revert to the traditional lecture .

the facilitator played a vital role the success of the online classroom. As a guide , she was always the to give us direction. giving us that back bone that we needed to move forward . but at the same time allowing us to self teach. which was the most valued aspect of the year. allowing us to have that constant drive that we are doing it all on our own. this was uplifting. This strategy is surely recommended for future lectures. I personally would love to have this strategy in future lectures.
