

MRS ROSHNEE SUNDER.

Peer Testimonial.

Mrs Sunder has been my friend and colleague at DUT for the past 11 years. We have worked side by side for most of those years and have performed many tasks and projects together. She has always been more than happy and eager to help and mentor new staff members and help them gain skills and knowledge in the areas of teaching, learning and assessment. She gives more than 100% when helping others to ensure that they understand and learn the new skills required of them. She does this willingly and often puts aside her own work to help others. Mrs Sunder is passionate about her teaching and enjoys sharing this with others and inspiring them to expand their knowledge. Her passion and creativity with technology can be seen in her online classrooms which she shares freely with her peers and mentees who are impressed by her talent in this area. The same passion and energy is directed towards her students where she goes more than the extra mile to assist them and do all she can to afford them opportunities to learn and improve their own performance. She willingly sacrifices her precious time to help and mentor peers and students.

Mrs Sunder has shared her innovative and creative teaching methods at many platforms within the DUT. Many academics have been "wowed" by what she has created on Blackboard and have been inspired to improve their own technology skills. She is particularly talented in this area and has developed unique teaching materials that are in keeping with the requirements of a University of Technology and the learning styles of the 21st century student. She is continually attempting to understand the students in her class so that she can adapt her teaching strategies to suit their needs. Her concern for student success is commendable and much energy is channelled into providing additional tasks for them to improve their performance outside the classroom.

Mrs Sunder's passion, enthusiasm and creative technological talents are unique and inspirational - students are lucky to be able to experience these qualities in their lecturer.
