

→ I did study, I did apply myself & I thought I was prepared for the paper. I don't know what happened I will try harder next test, but please lecture more often blackboard isn't enough.

- I performed badly because I did not manage my time correctly in order to cover all relevant sections required to perform better in this assessment. To improve I should set time aside especially for this subject. I also did not really enjoy the Blackboard learning way, either there were technical difficulties or I misused this learning method.

- My fault for studying a few days before.
- I felt that the volume was much.
- But I will try and do better by getting 60% and above.

I honestly believe that the online learning system is off no benefit to me.

I cannot learn properly with this system.

Firstly I do not have internet at home and secondly I do not think that this way of learning is good and helpful.

It is time consuming. I prefer learning from hardcopy worksheets and I know I will perform better.
